and lastly Mko fiti?

I know many might be wondering why? Why I chose to start with vernacular greetings. This was nothing but a show of how each and every region of Kenya is represented at Alliance. Our strength in body mind and character is rooted in the diversity that binds us. It goes out to show how everyone in this room is determined to break the borders of ethnicity and distance, all in the quest to quench your thirst for quality education.

Our backgrounds our stories are singular but our destiny is shared. the true strength of alliance lies not in the might of our arms but from the enduring power of our ideas. what we have already achieved gives us hope for what we can and must achieve tomorrow.

This our moment our time to put ourselves into our books our time to open doors of opportunity to our future.

Time to reclaim the fundamental truth that out of the many we are one. One nation. One people. One Alliance.

While we breathe, we hope.

Where we are met with cynicism and doubt

And those who tell us can't

We will respond with that timeless creed that sums up the spirit of Alliance.

YES, WE CAN

Yes, we can rise up.

Yes, we can defeat the boys in Kapsabet and those in the desert

Yes, we can be the best, no wait, we are, we just have to embrace it.

Yes, we can advance policies that push us forward and not the politics that pull us behind.

Yes, we can work together to build each other in dynamic brotherhood. Junior Old Boys Club is keen to build opportunity by continually serving as link between the students and our esteemed Old Boys, to provide mentorship and Guidance in various fields.

I would like to thank our speakers for even showing up. As I finish, let us not ask what Alliance can do for us but what we can do for Alliance.
